Follow-up activity

Organise the students into groups and get them to play Bingo. Nominate a caller for each group. Each group then makes a list of 12 words ending with able. Each student draws a grid of six squares in their exercise book, chooses six of the able words and writes the words in their grid.

The caller takes the list of 12 able words. Without looking at the students' grids, the caller says the words in random order, without repeating any. The students listen and cross out the words on their grid as the caller says them.

The first student to cross out all of their words shouts Bingo and wins. The winner becomes the caller for the next game.
